The 1946 TRIBESMAN

PUBLISHED BY THE STUDENT BODY OF

MISSISSIPPI COLLEGE

CLINTON, MISSISSIPPI

PURVIS LUNA • BUSINESS MANAGER

WE

In sincere appreciation of her loyalty and service to Mississippi College we dedicate this Volume of the TRIBESMAN to Miss Ernestine Thomae and in a large sense to all of that group of teachers who have in the past so loyally maintained and added to those ideals and traditions of Christian education for minister and layman for the preservation of which this school was founded and has been maintained, through years of adversity and prosperity, war and peace, for the greater glory of God and the Good of His peoples.

Miss Thomae

HONOR

FOREWORD and

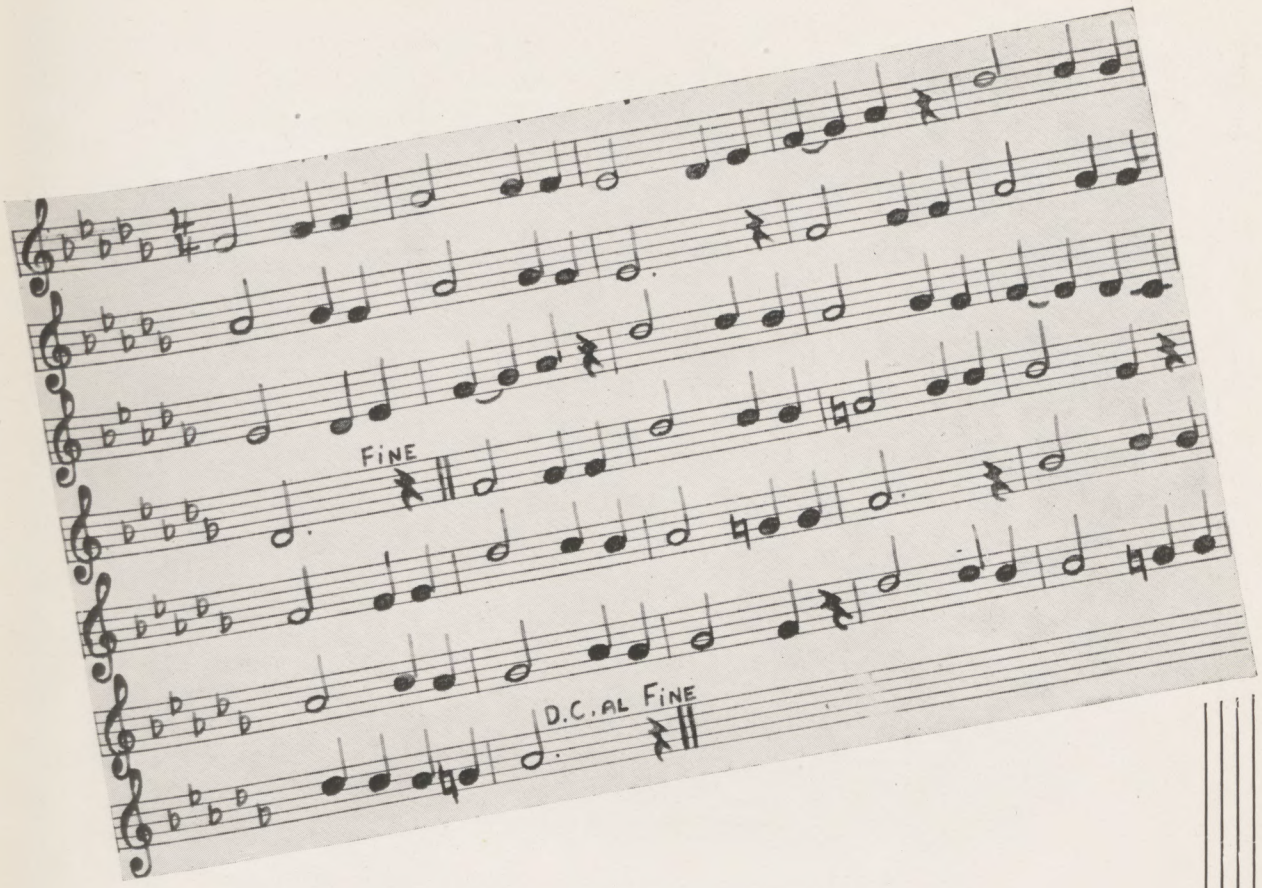
Any of us who remember one moment a few months ago when we learned that the war was over, any man who remembers the Statue of Liberty or San Francisco Harbor as he left the States, and how they looked when he got back . . . knows that any comment on the past few months of our lives would be inadequate.

So in the midst of a very talkative and preoccupied world, each of us might do well to pause sometimes and thank whatever God he worships that we still have a country; that the cities, houses, churches, and hospitals of our country are still standing, and not in shambles; that we still get enough to eat; that we can come to a school like M. C. We could thank God that most of our men and women came back, and we might send up a prayer of gratitude to those who will never come back. Yes, if an American stopped to think, he might remember that war is not so good; and he could resolve to try a little harder never to have another one; and if an American ever felt the urge to pray, he could thank his God for taking pretty good care of him, and he could ask God to help him live a better and more grateful life.

With this humble thought, we present the 1946 TRIBESMAN; and . . . with all its shortcomings . . . we hope you like it.



Fairest of all is our dear Mississippi,
Rising in state as the crest of the hill;
Staunch as a rock is our Dear Alma Mater,
'Round her so noble our hopes ever live.

When in the future, our hearts may be yearning
For the bright scenes of our dear college youth,
Back to thy portals our memories turning,
Clear gleams thy beacons of virtue and truth.

M. C., we hail thee, our dear Mississippi,
Queen of our hearts, no foe shall alarm;
Faithful and loyal thy children shall ever
Cherish thy mem'ry, acknowledge thy charm.

Alma Mater . . .

The history of Mississippi College has many a golden page. The light of the truth and virtue which she fosters and the tradition and ideals which she embraces has shown undimmed for over a century. Those of us to whom the torch has been thrown propose to hold it high that it may continue to shine in all its pristine glory into a darkened and needy world; and having done all, we propose to keep the faith.

My Creed for My Students:

Man largely creates his own heaven or hell (here and now. and hereafter). He draws the blueprint and constructs the building which he would have for an everlasting habitation. Mark well the dimensions and carefully choose the materials which go into the dwelling place of your soul. Within this structure there should be three rooms which are occupied by Faith, Hope, and Love. Such a building transcends time and space and lives on and on through the miriad eons of eternity.

The 1946 TRIBESMAN

With the youngest and greenest chiefs in history and with a totally inexperienced staff the 1946 Tribesman had rough sledding, but in spite of many obstacles and some heartbreaking and near-disastrous setbacks a determined staff never quite gave up. They learned their job well by always doing it the wrong way first . . . then trying again. Now . . . thanks to their persistence, if nothing else . . . their handiwork is complete and published with a sigh of relief and a sincere hope that it meets with some measure of approval and commendation.

Through 1945-46 the Collegian has directed its earnest efforts toward reporting to the student body up-to-the-minute news of M. C. activities. It has furnished a number of students with opportunities for real journalistic achievement and has been the chief source of inspiration to that indomitable spirit for which our school has always been famed.

Under the enterprising leadership of David Dale and George Estes the Collegian has . . . in this second year since its rebirth . . . risen from near oblivion to not only statewide recognition but also that unanimous acclaim which is the true measure of success. The Tribesman proudly salutes the Mississippi Collegian and its staff!

In this difficult year of transition from war to peace our Student Body Government under the conscientious leadership of Bob Touchstone has done a great job. After a year that has seen renewed efforts in behalf of the Enlargement Campaign, the drawing-up and adoption of a new Constitution, the abolition of freshmen rules and hazing, and many other notable advancements, the officers of the Student Body Government can well look back on their work with satisfaction.

Something new has been added! . . . not only women students as a real part of M. C. life, but Women Students' Government. Women Students' Government? Why, it's learning to live together; learning to do things for ourselves and each other; making rules ourselves, electing our own officers . . . It's Executive Council Meetings; Big-Sister, Little-Sister Day; house meetings; light cuts; it's taking demerits; it's annual elections; and Installation Service with a Student Government Key . . . it's organized striving toward Mississippi College standards of womanhood and ideals of love and honor!

Student Government Pledge: "I, as a member of the Women Students' Government Association of Mississippi College, assert my desire to live harmoniously on the Mississippi College campus, to uphold Mississippi College standards and to maintain her ideals of love and honor."

Out of the past year the Philomathean Literary Society has gathered momentum and begun to forge ahead. As a promoter of oratory and debate among the students, its programs for the past year have touched practically every realm of literary expression. This is a deviation from the old practice of discussing merely current events by the members. Almost a hundred years of successful history now brings a challenge to every member to give the rising society his mightiest support.

HERMENIAN

Thanks to the loyal group of students who kept alive the Hermenian spirit during the "lean war years," the society is intact and ready with enlarged plans for programs and membership for the coming session. This year under the direction of its first woman president, Mary Elizabeth Gilbert, the traditional Hermenian-Philomathean debates and banquet hit a new high, as did the varied educational programs presented weekly.

Teamwork was the keynote this year in the Ministerial Association. A great amount of interest and cooperation was shown by each individual member. The most outstanding things accomplished were the Radio Program and the beginning of the campaign to buy the Mission Bus. C. O. Lindsey, Mission Chairman, directed the work of and announced for the Radio Program. Brother Joe Haigler led the music. Directing the raising of funds for the Mission Bus was Glenn Sherrod, who carried this job to its completion after he was elected president of MA. Without the help of these and many others who worked tirelessly little could have been done.

A few years ago Mrs. Patterson, wife of the late Dr. M. O. Patterson, started meeting with the wives of the ministerial students because of her interest in helping them to be better ministers' wives. Out of these meetings grew the organization which we know at present as the Ministers' Wives Association. Its purpose is to broaden the lives of these women spiritually, socially and intellectually. To supplement programs put on by members of the Association, many ladies of the Clinton Baptist Church and the churches of Jackson have aided this year by giving special programs designed primarily to help solve problems and answer questions that confront ministers' wives. The MWA is truly a vital part of campus life, serving M. C. loyally and training women to be worthy companions in the work of God's Kingdom.

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

The Baptist Student Union, composed of every student on the campus affiliated with a Baptist organization, constitutes the hub of all student religious centered activities. Through it the members of the B. S. U. executive council have charge of Sunday School and B. T. U. assemblies, the Y. W. A., Noon-Day Prayer Meeting, social activities, and other phases of related church-school work. The B. S. U. leaders are ever eminent in other campus organizations and truly promise to be the national and world leaders of tomorrow.

Joy and Good Will at the Polio Clinic

Although the V. M. B. is only two years old, it is one of the most successful organizations on the campus. Its functions not only inspire the members with zeal for missions, but give them practical experience in work at the Polio Clinic, the Jackson City and Hinds County jails, the Old Ladies' Home, and various other places. Prayer and inspirational programs serve to keep and promote the truly Christian attitudes of the members.

YOUNG WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION

Vitally interested in the study of missions, home and foreign, throughout the world, the members of the Ann Haseltine Y. W. A. have studied, listened to speakers who emphasized the world's need, and prayed. As a means of reaching a greater number of girls and engaging more members in active participation, some important innovations have been made in the circle organization. Now the circles are combined under a committee of general officers and meet monthly for a joint program as well as for social affairs.

Officers: Ernestine Cooper, President; Nell Magee, Vice-President; Billie Ryle, Secretary and Treasurer; Minnie Mae Lennep, Publicity Chairman; Jewel Claire Pittman, Mission Study Chairman; Agnes Mathews, Stewardship Chairman; Dot Britt, Devotional Chairman; Ine Phillips, Program Chairman; Dot Peeler, Community Missions Chairman; Mary Willie Buckley, Social Chairman; Sara Jean Howell, Window Chairman; Mary Catherine Fletcher, Louise Girling, Minnie Mae Mayfield, Gladys Bryant, Annelle Horne, Circle Chairmen.

For those girls on the campus who consider culture an essential part of their education, the Epsilon Kappa Kappa was founded in 1945 on the suggestion and approval of a number of girls and boys. Receptions, formal dinners, fashion shows, advice from beauty experts, and men guest speakers (Subject: military secret) . . . all are now made possible for those girls sincerely interested in presenting themselves and Mississippi College in the best possible manner. As a badge of distinction these girls wear a beautiful, recently-created E. K. K. pin.

Seeking to understand comprehensively the events and the movements which have recently rocked the world, the I. R. C., honorary scholastic organization, has brought a challenge to its members. With the valuable aid of Miss Cutrer, faculty advisor, the members have sought through addresses, discussions, and outside reading to view current problems without prejudice and to so encourage individual thought that they may be creators and worthy leaders in the future.

MUSIC

BOYS' CHORUS

Always seeking a higher level through music, the members of the Boys Glee Club have gone out whole-heartily to make their organization one of the top-ranking on the campus. The Boys Glee Club has been wonderfully blessed with a number of accomplished solo voices and, since its organization in 1944, has proven its talent by many remarkable accomplishments. Prof. Elsey selected from this group several trios and quartets, and these ensembles were a great blessing to the many revivals in which they participated.

MIXED CHORUS

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

First Soprano: Armstrong, Bell, Berry, Cartledge, Cochran, Dollarhide, Furr, Girling, Gardner, Hollis, Langford, Lennep, McNeese, Martin, Pittman, Poole, Rouse, Shaw, Betty Smith, Walley, Watson, Warren, Wade, and Peters. Second Soprano: Cooper, Edwards, Emmett, Garrett, Gordon, Pettit, Ryle, Sharp, Waggoner, Young and Zachery. First Alto: Gillespie, Hall, Horne, Logan, Newton, Peeler, Russell, Sulliven, Smith, Lovett, McMullan. Second Alto: Alexander, Boyd, Carter, Crawford, Davis, Denman, Gilbert, Harris, Nelson, Smith, and Dennis.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

The Girls' Glee Club under the direction of Prof. Elsey has become one of Mississippi College's most valuable assets. Out of this organization have been formed several women's trios and quartets. These ensembles toured the state during the spring and did an outstanding work toward the advancement of the Enlargement Campaign. During the 1945 Baptist Convention the Girl's Glee Club, with the aid of the Boys' Chorus, was invaluable as a morale booster to the college students and friends. All M. C. students can be proud that this campus organization has come to be recognized as one of the few superior college choirs in the state.

Prominent in the M. C. Music Department is the College Band under the able direction of Professor E. N. Elsey. Besides presenting several successful concerts, the band was outstanding for the spirit it gave at athletic meets. Particularly notable were its performances during basketball season.

Highlighting a successful year of work was a banquet given in honor of the band by Dr. Nelson and made possible by Director Elsey. Although the recreational side of band life has been considered most interesting, the more sober aspects speak for themselves.

B A N D

ORCHESTRA

Hitting the campus with a bang of energy and enthusiasm, ex-army flier Vic Bruce lost no time in gathering together a group of the best campus musicians who were interested in a swing orchestra. Strictly "on its own" the Mississippi College Blue Moods has become one of the best college swing orchestras anywhere.

Although the Orchestra is made up primarily of ex-G.I's, it felt the need of a little feminine personality and broke an ancient tradition by adding to its group two co-eds.

This group has worked hard since its organization and has given some splendid performances, among the best of which were those given for the M-Club Amateur Contest and the annual beauty contest and variety show.

Solely a recreational organization, the Blue Moods finds its own reward in precious moments of relaxation afforded tired, struggling students . . . "an oasis of pleasure in a desert of books."

Victor Bruce, Leader; Winston Whitfield, Dell Lovett, James Lambuth and Bill Townsend, Saxes; David Estes, L. F. Wilkins and Howard Morton, Trumpets; Jack Bilbo, Trombone; John Evans, Drums; Jack Farrell, Bass; Betty Watson, Pianist.

Rena Mae Tovar, D. D. Kennedy, Mary Joe Pettit, Jimmy Riley, and Betty Newton.

CHEER-LEADERS

JIM BOB JONES
Head Cheerleader

Head Cheerleader Riley resigned at the beginning of the basketball season, and Jim Bob Jones of Jackson took over. Under Jim Bob's firey leadership the slumbering Choctaw spirit roared back to life to equal even the wildest memories of post-war years. The rafters are still shaking from those war whoops that greeted Millsaps during basketball season; and with an M. C. football team taking the field next fall backed by seven-hundred loyal students . . . just watch us!

COACH S. L. ROBINSON

ASSISTANT COACH W. W. FULTON

SPORTS

With Coach Stanley L. Robinson back at Mississippi College for the first year since 1942 our school is looking forward to an even better athletic program than ever before. With the aid of his two able assistants, former Choctaw stars Wilson Fulton and James McLeod, Coach Robbie has since his return fielded a victorious track team, conducted spring training in football, and made a big start in formulating a postwar physical training program thorough enough to include every student on our campus. With this fine coaching staff and probably more top-notch athletic material than ever before M. C. can well look forward to being once more a real power in all intercollegiate sports next year.

The '45-'46 edition of the Mississippi College basketball team had a very successful season, the record showing 17 wins and 6 losses. The team started practice sessions around the first of November with Prof. Strange coaching. Later in the season Coach Landrum returned and handled the men for a few games. He was then called back into the navy and Coach Fulton took over as regular basketball coach. Potentially the team was a great one. Handicapped by lack of height, it neverthless played some great games and won some mighty tough ones. We'll never forget those four-straight over Millsaps . . . or that Northwest State game here . . . whatta scrap! The team made itself known for its fighting spirit . . . that old Choctaw "something" that made them most dangerous when the game was hot and close. Candy Rials at center could play ball whenever he got the urge; he was one of the two men on the team over six feet and was high score man for the season. Parkman at one forward was the scrappiest player on the floor, a fine all-around basketball player. Earl Moody at the other forward position was a wicked left-hander, always dangerous and most so under the basket. Puryear captain of the team, guard, and the only other man over six feet was . . . well he was the spark that made the team go. He was easily the best at getting the ball off the board and a wonderful team man. He really deserved the honor of captain. At the other guard was John Fridge, youngest player on the team and small for a guard; but he was in there playing every minute with all he had. A good defensive man with beautiful pass work, Fridge was always steadiest when the chips were down and he was needed

TRACK TEAM

TRACK

The track team participated in only four meets, but in those four they really showed that winning M. C. way. Two meets held with Southwestern of Memphis were won by the Chocs by a margin of about thirty points, and in a triangular meet with Southeastern Louisiana and Northwest State the Chocs placed second. The final score to that one was Northwest 70, M. C. 40, and Southeastern 19. The final victory was at Memphis. Here the trackmen won the Southwestern Relays, bringing home a beautiful trophy for the famous "M" Room. Standouts this season were Albert Gore, dashman and captain; Lamar Puryear, hurdles and broad and high jump; Saucier and Jones in the middle distances; Parkman and Cole in the distances; and Jones in the weights. The team under the tutelage of Coach Fulton worked hard, and they present the nucleus for a truly great team next year.

SHOW...

This year the annual Amateur Show and Beauty Contest was presented jointly by the Tribesman, the Collegian, and the Orchestra. With a musical background given by the Blue Moods and wonderful performances made by both campus talent and some outstanding guest stars, the show couldn't help being a huge success. The dazzling array of gorgeous coeds present to contend for the famed Leonard Holloway Beauty Locket presented the judges with a perplexing problem, but finally the decision was reached, and Professor Holloway himself presented the beautiful medal to Miss Narcissa Alexander. The two runners-up were Miss Myrtle Simmons and Miss Sue Nell Edwards.

WHAT MISSISSIPPI MAKES MAKES MISSISSIPPI . . .

80 MILLION TO SEE IT

"Eighty million people in the United States will see and hear about Mississippi products—the products of one industry alone. They are the products of the Robert D. Sanders Company, leading Mississippi industrialist. The products of The Sanders Company are being advertised nationally in such publications as Vogue, Mademoiselle, Charm, Bride's, Harper's Bazaar, Pic, Esquire and Ladies' Home Journal. In addition to the national publication, the Sanders Company is advertising in every newspaper and over every radio station in Mississippi. This progressive firm's slogan is "What Mississippi Makes Makes Mississippi." Thus, Robert D. Sanders is launching the most ambitious, the most extensive and far-reaching national advertising campaign in the history of Mississippi, and far in excess of the promotion of most Southern States. Mississippi is entering upon an era of industrial expansion without precedent in the South. The State is now close to the lead of all Southern States in industrial expansion and general progress."
